

Hi Jack,

How did you first learn about giving? Was it from a parent, teacher, mentor or through your community?

Your experience helped shape your values and you've carried those lessons with you to this day. So why not do the same for the kids in your life by giving them a Charitable Allowance?

Set up a monthly allowance for them to donate to causes they care about. It could be rescuing animals, helping the environment, or supporting other kids. You'll guide them in giving while sharing valuable lessons along the way.

Introducing
Charitable Allowance

How to get started

- 1. Add the kids in your life as the recipients of a Charitable Allowance funded by your existing Impact Account.
- 2. Set the allowance amount and frequency. We recommend starting at as little as $10 a month. You can adjust this anytime.
- 3. Let them decide how to spend their charitable dollars while you provide guidance along the way.
